INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVE

In India, tanks/ponds and lakes have traditionally played an important role in conserving water for meeting various needs of the communities. As per 3rd Minor Irrigation Census 2000-2001, there are 5.56 Lakh tanks and storages in the country as minor irrigation sources creating 6.27 million ha of irrigation potential. Out of 5.56 lakh tanks, 4.71 lakh tanks are in use, and the remaining 0.85 lakh tanks are not in use for one reason or the other, as a result of which one million ha of irrigation potential has been lost. Many of these water bodies have gone into disuse because of the development of ground water irrigation systems, inadequate maintenance, encroachments, illegal diversion of land for construction purpose, etc. A pilot scheme for "Repair, Renovation and Restoration (RRR) of Water Bodies directly linked to Agriculture" was launched in January 2005 for implementation during the remaining period of Xth Plan with an outlay of Rs. 300 crores. Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchayee Yojana (PMKSY) was launched in 2015-16 with an aim to enhance physical access of water on farm and expand cultivable area under assured irrigation, improve on farm water use efficiency, introduce sustainable water conservation practices etc. PMKSY- Har Khet Ko Pani (HKKP) is one of the component of PMKSY. The scheme of RRR of water bodies has become a part of PMKSY- Har Khet Ko Pani (HKKP).

Different practical concepts of watershed development in form of success stories shall be discussed with the participants. Overall objective of this training programme is to provide exposure of every facet of RRR-HKKP scheme to the participants along with discussing the concepts and success stories of Watershed development.
